

Feature-group differences are small and inconsistent across folds

